Yorkshire Day Shoot – Sunday 6th August 2023

Unfortunately, in the absence of our usual correspondent you will have to forego the usual pithy “Yorkshire” banter and put up with my rather dry recounting of the day.

Warm and dry just about sums it up!

Fifteen archers, along with various spectators, assembled for the annual Yorkshire day shoot and sighters commenced on time. After the first 6 dozen the sun even made a welcome appearance whilst we consumed vast quantities of a Taylors buffet along with Parkin and Rascals kindly provided by Alice.

Here is the table of “swag” that everyone was shooting for. Those with eagle eyes might notice a grand total of 15 medals and trophies. Remarkable considering 15 archers participating and just a shame that someone (no names) went home empty handed. Maybe next year we have a medal for ‘Not winning a medal’?

Of course, competition is not complete without a couple of “accidents”. In this case some more expensive than others !
